The assembly commenced punctually at 8:30 AM, invoking divine blessings with the recitation of the ‘Gayatri Mantra’ followed by the melodious strains of the ‘D.A.V. Gaan’. A warm and gracious welcome was extended to all present in the Assembly.

Following this was a tapestry of events that elaborated on the assembly topic and they were:

- A song on how school makes students a concerned citizen.
- An interactive game show in which the participants elaborated on who a concerned citizen is.
- A rhythmic dance to paint smiles.
- An invention ramp featuring the ideas of the student to deal with the issues citizens face.

THE MIME SHOW

The students presented an entertaining yet informative and creative performance, highlighting how School Council elections help create more aware and concerned future citizens. A talented music band consisting of keyboards and a violin played live as the actors performed.

MELODIOUS ENSEMBLE- THE SONG

A melodious song was presented by the songbirds of IX B. The Carnatic song was a fusion of the Hindi language and the Tamil language. Students struck the perfect notes while humming about the role a school plays in shaping a student into a concerned citizen.

MINUTE TO WIN IT - THE GAME SHOW

The students playing as judges conducted a short game where the participants had to speak on the topic, that is, ‘Concerned Citizens’ for 30 seconds. The audience were also involved to share their take on the topic and were rewarded for it, spiced up with a little humour, of course.

EUPHORIC MOVES - THE DANCE

Catchy tunes and even catchier moves lifted the mood of the audience, serving as an interval to the production. The students danced with grace and immense coordination which demanded the applause of the audience.

As the assembly drew to a close, a heartfelt vote of thanks was extended. With gratitude and reverence, the students acknowledged the inspiring presence of Mrs. Sujatha .M, their beloved Principal, the Supervisory Heads, and the dedicated teachers and fellow DAVites.

INVENTION RAMP

Right after feedback was given by the Principal, students presented a few innovative ideas and designs including a device which generates electrical energy from sound energy, or vibrations, and a sensor that notifies the driver whether the hand brakes of a vehicle have been turned on when he parks a vehicle.

The assembly concluded with the chanting of the Shanti Paat and singing of the National Anthem.
