SECTION-A (READING) 10MARKS

1. Read the following passage carefully.

All religions in the world commonly teach us peace and happiness. They say there is only one God. Practising love and truth is the way of reaching Him. Christianity says, "Love your neighbour as you love yourself". Prophet Mohammad taught us about universal brotherhood. Hinduism teaches us, "Let all people in the world live in happiness or bliss." Buddhism also teaches us the path of love. (para-1)

Yet the world has gone through many wars fought on the basis of religion. The partition of India and Pakistan, the conflict and war that followed, are examples where religion disturbed our peace and happiness. The problem does not arise for nations or states where the entire people belong to one religion. The problem arises where people belonging to more than one religion live. (para-2)

India has produced great kings and saints who saw the oneness of all religions in the name of one God. Saints like Kabir Das and Sai Baba have sung in the name of one religion. In spite of all efforts, conflicts still arise and peace is disturbed. When a man is under his selfish influence, he does not know what he is doing. He feels that he is serving God by harming or hurting others. (Para-3)

1.1 Answer the following questions briefly.
